My First Year in Key Club!!!

This is my very first newsletter as Lt. Governor of Division 78. So I thought this might be a good time to introduce myself. I am Amanda M. Norman; I am in eleventh grade at Sisters High School. I have a younger brother, an older half brother, and I live with both my parents. I am very excited for this year as I hope to make all our clubs united. I would like to give fair warning to everyone that I am not the best writer and that I am going to do my best not to make a fool of myself this year, but no promises ha. My first goal as LTG is to keep everyone connected, hence the title the High Desert expression as I want everyone to feel free to talk about what their club is doing so keep me posted! :]

Our Division is number 78, and we include Sisters, Madras, Redmond, Bend, Prineville, Burns, La Pine & Cascadia. Our colors are Green and Black and we now have an official mascot. I'm excited to make this year the best one we have seen and to add a whole bunch of new clubs! I will do my best to keep in contact with everyone so please contact me whenever you need assistance, I'm just a click away!

Ever Wonder How Key Club Started??

Key Club History

It was in May 1925 in Sacramento, California, that the eleven charter members comprising the first Key Club met officially for the first time. Prior to that meeting came a full year's activity and thought, through which the idea of the Key Club developed and finally reached fruition. The following describes that flowering. In California during the twenties, high school fraternities were in their heyday. Educators and others were concerned with the pernicious side of these groups and sought some means of replacing them with more wholesome activity for youth. Fraternities were banned by law; they merely went underground, to be heard of only when their excesses received glaring publicity. The idea of junior service clubs, similar to Kiwanis and other civic clubs, was broached in 1924, but the practical application was not put into effect until 1925.

District Convention!

For every Key Clubber who attended Convention from March 26-28th I am just so ecstatic that you all could come! Convention is a great chance for Key Clubs to meet, for clubbers to learn more about how to help the community, and for club officers to learn more about what their title includes.

Convention is for any and all Key Club International Members! District Convention, also known as DCON is a once a year opportunity. Its a chance for members to mingle, meet other students, learn about their positions in the office, learn what they can do to change the world, and to in general have fun! I had the opportunity to take a Michael Jackson dance class and it was so funny and entertaining to see everyone learn and try over and over until they learned how to do the Thriller Dance, Moon Walk, or even the Beat It Dance that it was a definite highlight of my weekend! Students learn to interact and become leaders through a wide variety of classes, making for a very full weekend. DCON is full of fun, spirit, friends, and very little sleep ha!

* Also sorry to the Redmond High School Girls, and Boys. I did not get any pictures with any of you, which I regret, but also did not receive any so far. I am excited for pictures that are coming though!
